

UNIVAC COMPUTER GENEALOGY

Footnotes:

1. This chart indicates primary Design Parent/Offspring and/or Design Influence Relationships
2. Dates are either "first delivery" or project completion. They are to be used only to indicate generally the chronology of product development.
3. The prime criterion for entry of a computer on this chart is based on the significance of the project. A few computers shown were design efforts only but produced significant technical advances.
4. This chart does not reflect market life. A line drawn to the right side of the chart indicates the product is currently being sold.
5. Additional limited production and special purpose computers have been produced by Univac.
