AUGUST PROGRAM:

Wine and Cheese Social

Tuesday, August 13th at 7 pm will be a wine & cheese social at the Lawshe Memorial Museum hosted by the Dakota County Historical Society (DCHS). For planning purposes an attendee head count is needed; please send an email to Bernie (bjskj@msn.com) or call a board member before August 6th. Set your GPS Unit to South Saint Paul, 130 Third Avenue as indicated by this map inset [right]. Note that parking in the Museum area is quite limited; we suggest car pooling.

The Program will feature a tour of the Lawshe Memorial Museum including the viewing of the temporary exhibit of our IT Legacy Artifacts.

Last December Lockheed Martin (LMCO) donated 18 pallettes of our Information Technology Legacy Artifacts to the DCHS museum in South St. Paul. DCHS employee, Andrew Fox has been cataloging these palette items. Keith Myhre is converting the LMCO donation lists from Excel to the DCHS Access database. These Artifacts included computers, displays, other hardware, documentation, miscellaneous items such as projects cup & pins, plus thousands of unidentified photos. The photo below shows initial work in progress on 50-years of our airborne ASW history in the temporary exhibit area. Left to right are Bob Pagac, Les Nelson, a Japanese P-3C CP 2044 Computer, Tricia Myhre, and Harvey Taipale.

We hope to see you here!

September PROGRAM:

Vikings in the Attic

ERIC DREGNI: VIKINGS IN THE ATTIC

Most readers are either of Scandinavian descent or live among those who are. Hardly any of us can remain uninfluenced by the ubiquitous Nordic heritage. How did this happen and why here? And what are the idiosyncrasies of these ever so prevalent people? Our speaker for September is Eric Dregni (yes, Dregni is a Norwegian name), assistant professor of English (writing and journalism) at Concordia University in St. Paul and author of 16 books including Follies of Science: 20th Century Visions of our Fantastic Future,

VIP Club July/August 2013 Newsletter

Weird Minnesota, and Midwest Marvels. As a Fulbright fellow to Norway he wrote In Cod We Trust: Living the Norwegian Dream. Dregni worked in Italy for five years as a travel journalist for a weekly paper and compiled his essays into a book in Italian, which was later translated into English as Never Trust a Thin Cook: and Other Lessons from Italy's Culinary Capitol (U of M Press). His most recent book is Vikings in the Attic: In Search of Nordic America. In summer he is the dean of the Italian Concordia Language Village, Lago del Bosco.

Eric grew up with Swedish and Norwegian grandparents with a bit of Dane thrown in. That experience helped shape his perception of "normal" people. He listened to their stories, believed most (at least until later on), but then discovered so many more unusual habits, traits, beliefs, dietary peculiarities, etc. He spins great yarns, throws on a heavy gravy of humor, and helps us see what makes us, or at least our coworkers or neighbors, tick. Come join us for enlightened entertainment September 11th.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

From: Bob 'RC' Hanson

Apparently the grand reunion picnic was a great success. I was unable to participate due to a conflict with my annual fishing trip to Canada. The planners and volunteers contributed greatly to the success of this event. Further information is included in this newsletter, which I hope identifies the people who so richly deserve our thanks for a job well done.

Respectfully, Bob 'RC' Hanson, VIP Club President.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

September Newsletter Inputs: Members are invited to submit activity reports, IT Legacy articles, or jokes electronically to Chief Editor Joe Schwarz, jschwarz@isd.net by August 8th.

Death Benefit Information: Last month we posted information about the UNISYS retiree $5k death benefit. The article spurred Lucille Elms to check into the Lockheed Martin retiree benefits. LMCO retirees are eligible for a $5k benefit. Retirees should verify that he/she has a beneficiary on record with the pension administration. Name, Social Security Number, and PIN are needed.

Field Service Picnic: Curt Anderson reported that there will not be an annual August picnic this year.

Mark Your Calendar:

- 9 October 6:30 PM- UNISYS Roseville; Pie and Ice Cream night - Peter Hancock will show slides on his "Australian Outback" trip.

- 13 November 7:00 PM- Eagan MACS - Denise Nelson, RN - "Navigating your Health and Wellness in today's complicated medical world". AND election of the Board for 2014.

- 12 December 4:30 PM Fort Snelling Officers Club - Christmas Party. One man band Lyndon Peterson will provide Christmas music for dancing or conversations.

Dale Phelps, Director & Program Coordinator.

Road Construction Updates:

Rainy weather continues to hamper construction activities. Crews have focused their efforts on work that is less weather dependent. Grading and material hauling activity will increase as soils dry so that the contractor can make up for lost time. For those of us in the Northeast area of the Twin Cities there are four summer long projects impacting travel. Look at detour information and maps for the I-694, Hwy 10/96, I35E, and Hwy 36 projects at: <http://www.dot.state.mn.us/metro/projects/694expand/>, <http://www.dot.state.mn.us/metro/projects/hwy10ardenhills/>, <http://www.dot.state.mn.us/metro/projects/35estpaul/>, <http://www.dot.state.mn.us/metro/projects/hwy36maplewood/>. REPORT, WEB SITE REVIEW

This is the thirty-seventh in the newsletter 'Article-for-the-Month' review series for Club members without immediate internet access. By Lowell A Benson

In January 2013 we posted "A Brief History of Sperry Corporation", re-typed from an undated paper. "

The Sperry story begins in 1873 with the introduction of the first commercial typewriter by E. Remington & Sons of Iliion N.Y. After a half century of business operation, E. Remington & Sons was merged with several other business machine makers to form a new company in 1927 - Remington Rand, Inc. During the next two decades, Remington Rand earned an enviable reputation as a developer of financial record and filing systems and a manufacturer of typewriters, mechanical calculators and punched card systems. But the acquisition of two small companies in 1950 and 1952 would form the nucleus of an entirely new kind of business which continues to be reflected in the organization today.

In 1950, Remington Rand purchased the Eckert-Mauchly Computer Corporation of Philadelphia, PA. A few years earlier, while affiliated with the University of Pennsylvania, J. Presper Eckert and John Mauchly had designed and assembled ENIAC (Electronic Numerical Integrator and Calculator.) This huge electronic computer, the first of its kind in the world, was built to solve ballistics problems for the U.S. Army and was hundreds of times faster than any of its mechanical counterparts. The success of ENIAC prompted Eckert and Mauchly to form their own computer company in 1947. In 1949, they completed BINAC (Binary Automatic Computer) for the Northrop Corporation in California. Another computer which they called UNIVAC (Universal Automatic Computer) was only partially completed when the Eckert-Mauchly Computer Corporation was acquired by Remington Rand in 1950. the first model of the UNIVAC I Series was delivered to the United States Bureau of the Census in 1951.

In 1952, Remington Rand purchased Engineering Research Associates (ERA) of St. Paul, Minn. ERA had been organized in 1946 by a group of World War II mathematicians and engineers who had developed considerable expertise in electronic cryptography and special purpose military electronic systems. In 1950, ERA delivered two electronic computers to the United States Navy and Tahoma Institute of Technology. After ERA was acquired by Remington Rand, each of the computer models in this initial series was identified as a UNIVAC 1101.

In 1955, Remington Rand merged with the Sperry Corporation, forming Sperry Rand. The Sperry Corporation had been founded in 1910 by Elmer A.

Sperry, a prolific inventor and applied scientist. The 1960s and 70s were decades of organizational stability and business growth in Sperry's key markets. The company expanded its international operations through formation of joint ventures in Scandinavia and Japan and established engineering and manufacturing sites in Canada, Belgium Germany, France, Scotland and England. In 1979, with the planned divestment of Sperry's electric shaver and office products operations, Sperry Rand Corporation changed its name to Sperry Corporation to streamline the corporate identity. The 1984 divestment of Sperry Vickers further focused the corporate mission on designing and producing high technology, electronic-based systems and products for commercial business, government, defense, aerospace and maritime markets.

Since the 1952 acquisition of ERA, the company's operations in the Twin Cities area of Minnesota have been steadily expanded. Today, Sperry's employment in Minnesota numbers 14,000, ranking the company as the State's fourth largest industrial employer.

The Defense Products Group is headquartered in Eagan, Minn., and operates 12 divisional facilities in the St. Paul area. Information Systems Group's System Products Division designs and manufactures large-scale computers and components at facilities in suburban Roseville, Brooklyn Park, and Eagan, and in outstate Jackson, Minn. A regional Information Systems Group asset reclamation center is located in Mendota Heights, as is the Systems Management Group's air traffic control operations. Eagan is also the site of regional operations for Sperry New Holland." [re-typed by LABenson]

In February 2013 we posted My ERA and pre-ERA 'mini-history' by Don Weidenbach. This paper begins with: “Prologue: Don Weidenbach is from America’s ‘Greatest Generation’ – those who served our country during WWII followed by a memorable career. Don’s career was part of the Information Technology industry which had some of its roots in St. Paul, MN. (Photo circa 1939) Don has been supporting the VIP Club’s IT Legacy project with recollections of computer technologies of the 50s and 60s.” “In July of 1946 I was on board an Army troop ship, along with several thousand other GI’s, coming home from the Philippines. We were in a happy mood. The war with Japan had been over for a year and we were finally on our way home.”

Don’s mini-history story ends with: “In 1976, I retired from Univac after 30 years in a company that I doubted I would stay with for more than a year or two when I joined it in 1946!! My parting gift was a desk set with a Speed Tally vacuum tube, an Athena module, and a Nike-X project sticker – it is now at the Lawshe Museum in S. St. Paul [photo below.] It was a great time for 30 years!”

Edited by Lowell A. Benson.”

REPORT, Grand Reunion Picnic

The rain stopped, the clouds parted [kind of], food was purchased [almost not], cars parked, and fun was had by all! Final count of attendees at the Grand Reunion Picnic at Highland Pavilion on June 12th was 359. Thanks to all who ignored possible rain weather forecasts to get there.

Nothing like this happens without the hard work by a lot of people and my personal thanks go out to every one of them. It is because of these people that everyone seemed to have a good food, fine drink, and excellent fellowship. Here they are in no particular order since without any of them, everyone wouldn't have had enjoyed it quite as much:

VIP Club July/August 2013 Newsletter

Patty Tietz: food planning, ordering, kitchen, setup, pickup [and when Sam's Club doesn't get the order pulled and ready for pickup an hour before the Picnic she and her helpers get it all to the Pavilion in plenty of time] – We couldn't do it without you!

Don Tietz: kitchen – dishpan hands and clean pots/pans.

Darrell Nowak: kitchen – if you didn't get your bratwurst until the end of the picnic, you missed his beer/onion preparation.

Dan Rogers, Bob Pagac, Bob Shutt: grill [really hot] – the hair on your hands and arms will eventually grow back.

Sue Rogers: kitchen and set up – anywhere and everywhere.

Mary [Bob again] Shutt: food pickup, kitchen, coolers – calm, cool, and collected.

Jay Chrastil: food pickup, coolers, beer helper, everything else – restocks what he drinks and more.

Mike Regan: beer selection and pickup – best beer ever. Sláinte!

Keith and Susan Behnke & crew: registration – imagine keeping track of 450 people, amazing!

Tom and Virginia Turba: everywhere – I don't know about you, but I needed the name tags: Thanks!

Jim McGuire & Others: registration table – Got everybody those needed name tags and to the food and fun quickly.

Deone and Mark Ward: grill – they were there in spirit, but the only way to do that much meat for this size of crowd is on their grill.

Joe Schwarz & crew: table coverings – classes up the joint really nice.

Tom and Joyce Koetter: set up, wherever needed – that will teach you to get there early.

Dean Nelson, Bob Fried, and everyone else who helped cleanup – I missed most the names, but lots of hands make light work.

Dale Phelps: shuttle bus – a long walk made shorter.

Harvey Taipale: money – thanks for paying the bills.

Jim Larson: permits and extra stuff – a truck load of everything.

Lowell Benson: IT Legacy display and pictures – we got a few more answers. Our remaining stock of ERA 40 year booklets and Fred Hargesheimer books went home with attendees.

Stephano's Bistro: chafing dishes, serving items and anything else I needed – one of the best friends in the business.

Frank King: check in table and permits – you've gotta have those permits and stay legal.

Pat Westergren: setup, kitchen – best cook, best advice, always there for me!

VIP Club Board: idea, commitment, and support – lots of ideas and a little trust.

If I missed anyone, I apologize since it is because of my poor memory, not because of their hard work went un-noticed.

There have been a few people who asked if we're doing this again; let someone on the Board know if you want a picnic, or not, or something else? Anything we should do better? More of? Less of?

Remember: volunteers and helpers with good ideas and lots of energy are always needed. I hope you're having a Great Summer!

John (jwestergren@frontiernet.net)

The VIP Club Board specifically thanks John Westergren who organized the volunteers and coordinated everything!
