PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Welcome back AZ and FL snowbirds. Welcome home to our out-of-state members who have planned a summer vacation back in Minnesota.

Although time always seems to fly in Minnesota; I invite you to take a break from your lake fun or the golf course while you are here! The newsletter lists several PERIODIC GROUPS breakfast or lunch gatherings at which you could meet and greet a few former co-workers. Better yet, if your timing is right come to the June picnic or the August outing at the Charles Babbage Institute. The picnic and CBI tour are also opportunities for donations of your old ERA/UNIVAC/Sperry/UNISYS hardware items and documents. Plus, if you still have a few vacation hours to burn; the Lawshe Museum great hall has preliminary displays of our ERA to LMCO history!

Respectfully; Lowell A. Benson

REPORTS, LEGACY ACTIVITIES

Be a Historian: The Legacy History team met at the Lawshe Museum May 6th. We discussed exhibit development topics then resolved to make personal contact to fill out our topic candidate listings. The candidates to date are available on a new web site page 19, section 3 of <http://vipclubmn.org/Exhibits.html>. Only the people (you) that were part of making the history can make sure all the important and interesting events, inventions, decisions, products, etc, are included in the Museum's future exhibits. Please review this listing then send us a note about your project/program which we've missed. Or, if we've already listed your favorite item, please take time to write a paragraph or two about details you recollect. Our intent is to support the Lawshe Museum exhibit grant so that the full history of ERA and its successors can be captured and told.

May and June 'Article for the Month': UNISYS Roseville had a sense of history thus began creation of technology artifact shadow boxes a decade before our IT Legacy Committee formation. Harry Smuda [management] and Richard Petschauer [engineering] are credited with the development. When UNISYS, Roseville downsized a couple of years ago,

Chuck Lefebvre coordinated shadowbox mounting in a new hallway. Now Mike Svendsen has transcribed all of the plaque text from within these shadow boxes. The sixteen computer series shadowboxes are listed in <http://vipclubmn.org/Documents/ERA2unisysWeb.pdf>, the May article. The June seven 'Engineering Highlight' shadow boxes paper is still being edited as this newsletter issue goes to press. . LABenson

Symptoms:

2. Causes you to send a blank e-mail! That too!
3. Causes you to send e-mail to the wrong person. Yep!
4. Causes you to send it back to the person who sent it to you. Aha!

5. Causes you to forget to attach the attachment. Well darn!
6. Causes you to hit "SEND" before you've finished. Oh , no not again!
7. Causes you to hit "DELETE" instead of "SEND." And I just hate that!
8. Causes you to hit "SEND" when you should "DELETE." Oh No!

Without even looking up from her breakfast Lena replied, "Da funeral director vould be my first guess."

"Lexophile" is a word used to describe those that love using words in rather unique ways, such as "you can tune a piano, but you can't tuna fish", or "to write with a broken pencil is pointless." A man was sitting on the edge of the bed, watching his wife, who was looking at herself in the mirror. Since her birthday was not far off he asked what she'd like to have for her birthday. 'I'd like to be six again', she replied, still looking in the mirror.

On the morning of her Birthday, he arose early, made her a nice big bowl of Lucky Charms, and then took her to Six Flags theme park. What a day! He put her on every ride in the park; the Death Slide, the Wall of Fear, the Screaming Roller Coaster, everything there was. Five hours later they staggered out of the theme park. Her head was reeling and her stomach felt upside down.

He then took her to a McDonald's where he ordered her a Happy Meal with extra fries and a chocolate shake. Then it was off to a movie, popcorn, a soda pop, and her favorite candy, M&M's. What a fabulous adventure! Finally she wobbled home with her husband and collapsed into bed exhausted.

He leaned over his wife with a big smile and lovingly asked, 'Well Dear, what was it like being six again?' Her eyes slowly opened and her expression suddenly changed. 'I meant my dress size, you retard!!!!' The moral of the story: Even when a man is listening, he is gonna get it wrong.

RAMBLINGS OF A RETIRED MIND

I was thinking about how a status symbol of today is those cell phones that everyone has clipped onto their belt or purse. I can't afford one. So, I'm wearing my garage door opener.

I also made a cover for my hearing aid and now I have what they call blue teeth, I think.

You know, I spent a fortune on deodorant before I realized that people didn't like me anyway.

I was thinking about old age and decided that old age is 'when you still have something on the ball, but you are just too tired to bounce it.'

I thought about making a fitness movie for folks my age, and call it 'Pumping Rust'....

I've gotten that dreaded furniture disease. That's when your chest is falling into your drawers!

When people see a cat's litter box, they always say, 'Oh, have you got a cat?' Just once I want to say, 'No, it's for company!'

Employment application blanks always ask who is to be notified in case of an emergency. I think you should write, 'A Good Doctor!'

I was thinking about how people seem to read the Bible a whole lot more as they get older. Then, it dawned on me. They were cramming for their finals.

As for me, I'm just hoping God grades on the curve.

Enjoy your days and love your life,
Because life is a journey to be savored.
